Can You Help?

New database for provenance queries

CERL has developed a new resource for public discussion and identification of provenance problems. You do not need a login to view items on the database. When you have created a login, you can post queries (including images) and join the discussion on items which have already been displayed.

To use the database:

- <http://provenance.cerl.org/cgi-bin/canvouhelp/start.pl>
- Click on an image or its title to view a full record;
- To post a new query or to add a comment to the discussion, login (name and password) or create a new login if you do not already have one;
- Click on New query (menu at top right) to create a new query;
 - Enter as much detail about the item as possible;
 - Include a link to an image if possible;
 - Note: insert a link to the image, not to the page where the image is located: right-click on the image and select "Copy image location" (or similar, depending on your browser/language, etc.);
- To add a comment, select the full record and then "Click here to post a comment".
- When your query has been satisfactorily answered, please logon again, edit the record and mark it as solved.

Note: the database is still under development. Not all facilities are yet working, e.g. the Help menu.
Queries submitted under the old system are still visible (below): you are welcome to re-post them on the new database.
